
The Medical Consultant's Role

- Medical Consultants have a valuable role in the investigative process.
- The Board depends on its Consultants for their expertise and unbiased opinions.
- Although the Board is not bound by a medical consultant's review, all reports are carefully considered as part of the total investigative file.
- All investigative files will be made available to Medical Consultants on a secure website. (Films will be sent separately via mail in the format in which they are provided to the Board.)
- It is your responsibility to ensure that any information you review remains confidential.
- Although you may ask colleagues for their hypothetical opinions, you may not share any of the information you review with others.

We Cannot Do it Without You

Medical Consultants fill a valuable role in the investigative process. The Board depends on its consultants for their expertise and unbiased opinions.

The Board wants a Consultant's opinion regarding the standard of care within your specialty and whether or not the Standard of Care was followed.

Medical Consultant Qualifications:

You may serve as a Medical Consultant for the Board if you:

- Possess an active license to practice medicine in Arizona and have no prior Board disciplinary history;
- Practice in the same or similar area of specialty as the physician being investigated;
- Are not the subject of a pending investigation, pending disciplinary action, or final disciplinary action by any licensing agency or health care entity, and
- Have been engaged in the practice of medicine for at least five years.

Compensation

- Medical Consultants are paid $150 per case review.
- After receiving a physician's response to a Medical Consultant report involving deviations from the standard of care, Consultants may be asked to provide a short supplemental report addressing the physician's response. The Board will pay another $150 for the supplemental response.
- Medical Consultants may also claim one hour CME credit for every hour spent performing a case review.
- Satisfaction of contributing to your profession.
